The Whitewater Register gives Mr. Caswell the following handsome endorsement: "While the result is not what we hoped or worked for, yet Mr. Caswell has his nomination fairly and honorably, and we hope that he may receive every republican vote of the district. His friends claimed that having represented the district only one term he was entitled to a nomination for one term longer. No one questions his ability or the value of his services. He has made an excellent member, and will continue to do so. Let us do our best to give him a big vote."

John S. Dean, one of the oldest residents of Madison died in that city on Friday of heart disease. For a period of eighteen years he was secretary of the Board of University Regents. A year ago he was compelled to resign, owing to a mild attack of paralysis, which warned him that he must abandon the constant use of the pen. He was not compelled to take to his bed till last Monday. He was born in Taunton, Mass., in 1826, and received his education in the public schools of Boston. He spent eighteen months on the ocean as a seaman "before the mast," then worked ten years as a machinist, and afterwards, in 1855, came west, settling in Lafayette county. There he was engaged in mining. Later he became a lumber dealer at Darlington. He was assistant clerk of the assembly from 1858 to 1861, inclusive and chief clerk from 1862 to 1865, inclusive. From 1870 to 1874 he acted as assistant secretary of state. He became secretary of the board of University Regents in 1869.

"Gath," who is well acquainted with Mr. Conkling and frequently meets him in New York, writes this about him: "Roscoe Conkling grows rounder and rounder every day. He doesn't want to do it, but, profiting by past experience, has given up bossing what he cannot boss. Each month, too, his bank account grows more plethoric from the regular deposits which he makes of the enormous retaining fees his ability commands. His auburn curl has been trimmed, he is growing much less dudish in his dress and his general appearance indicates that posing for the galleries for him is a thing of the past. Those who know him best say that his only political ambition is to do all he can to reward the friends who never deserted him and to even up things a little with some of the men he made only to be betrayed by them. Americans as a rule, have no sympathy with ingratitude, common as the failing is, and that is one reason why Mr. Conkling's course possesses the interest it does to intelligent members of both political parties."

A PRODIGAL SON.

In looking over the proceedings of the republican state convention of Minnesota one familiar name catches the eye, and it is spelled "Ignatius Donnelly." Verily the whirligig of time brings about some singular changes and strange events. For many years Mr. Donnelly was a member of the republican party. The party sent him to congress for six years, and made him lieutenant governor of the state. It treated him very handsomely, but because he was not continued in office year and after year, he became, like George W. Julian, an enemy of the party that made him, and he went over to the democracy.

Mr. Donnelly was fed on husks when he packed up his traps and went to the democratic camp. He became what may properly be called a democratic-greenbacker. He was anything to beat the republican party. He ran for congress as a democratic-greenbacker and was defeated. When he saw that that kind of politics did not pay, he began to turn his attention to archaeological science, and shortly produced that remarkable work, "Atlantis" which attracted wide attention both in America and in Europe. He write "Ragnarok," another work which displays great thought and research. Now he is engaged on a work in which he will attempt to prove that Shakespeare did not write the plays that are attributed to him, but that Lord Bacon wrote them. His last effort would seem to indicate that Mr. Donnelly is losing his reason. But, however, he is a forcible writer, and any one who reads his argument in favor of Bacon will be apt to think that Hamlet was written by the author of Novum Organum, and not by William Shakespeare.

Mr. Donnelly saw the blunder he made in attempting to hedge between the democratic and the greenback parties and after a lapse of ten years is found in the republican party, and an active worker in a state convention. He is one of the ablest men in Minnesota and after remaining in the party on probation for some time the republicans may honor him with a place in which he would honor the state.

ABILITY NOT APPRECIATED.

The other day the Hon. Allen G. Thurman, of Ohio, made a speech at Cincinnati, in response to a serenade, in which he used these touching words:

You come not to a rising sun; you come to a setting sun, low down in the horizon, soon to sink out of sight forever. I shall never again hold office; never be able to reward friends or punish foes. You come without hope or fear on that score. I have always lived a democrat, and I shall live and die with full faith in democratic principles. It has been my aspiration to so live that when I am under the sod my epitaph might truthfully read: "Here lies an honest democrat."

Mr. Thurman is 73 years old, and has been out of the United States senate since 1881. Although he was an ultra democrat, he was an honest one. Matt Carpenter said of him that he was the best constitutional lawyer in the senate, and in fact he pronounced him the ablest in the United States. While in the senate he was honored by members of both parties because of his ability and because there was not a stain of any description upon the man. The old Roman served his party many years and all the while placed himself far beyond the touch of suspicion.

One would suppose that a leader like Mr. Thurman—whose conspicuous ability and public and private record stand as a lasting monument to the man—would be properly recognized by his party. But he was not. His name went before national conventions but only to be voted down. Since he left the senate the democrats have looked upon him as a "setting sun." The administration did not have charity enough to do him the honor of offering him an appointment under the government, but in the cabinet and in courts placed men infinitely inferior both in ability and in character to Mr. Thurman. Standing for all that is good in democratic politics, and fighting against the boodle element that curses the politics of Ohio, he is told that he is not wanted, and in his walk on the down hill side of life, with the "setting sun" just before him, there is no one in the party of his own state to bestow upon him the honor that he should wear.

But this is an exceptional case of party ingratitude. Webster and Clay were served in a like manner.

GOVERNOR RUSK AND THE PEOPLE.

The boom for Governor Rusk still continues. From every part of the state comes the cheering news that this representative man of the people is growing stronger and stronger. The further the campaign advances and the more the issues are discussed, the wider becomes the sentiment in his favor. Not in the history of the politics of Wisconsin was there ever before such honors paid to a candidate for governor. His own party is not only unanimous for him, but hundreds of sober-minded democrats, who honor courage, firmness and wisdom in an executive, and who are pronounced against turbulence, lawlessness and anarchy, will support him. The spirit of this class of democrats is the spirit that not only prevails in Wisconsin, but prevails in other states, so that all eyes are being turned toward the campaign here, the sister states fully expecting that Wisconsin shall do its duty and show to the American people that without regard to party, lawlessness and riots must be condemned.

Governor Rusk, while coming from the common people and spending the first years of his manhood in the humblest labor, is an extraordinary man. He has been severely tried and has never been found wanting. In all the tests to which his ability and character have been put he has been triumphant. He was tried in battle and won distinguished honors. Six years he served in congress, and by his uncommon good sense which is called common sense he never made a blunder, and gained as much influence and personal popularity as any man on the floor of the house. Five years he has been governor of Wisconsin, and his record in that office is known of all men. His good sense, uprightness, and strength of mind constantly keep him company. Not in a single instance has he ever lost his balance. Never has he been slack or even hesitating in the discharge of any duty. His administration from beginning to end has been highly creditable. So thoroughly equipped is he with all that go to make up an able and a fearless executive that when the work of anarchists stared him in the face, he was equal to the occasion at once, and without delay or a cowardly and shuffling policy, he instantly staid the hands of the mob. Three other governors with the same opportunities to bring law and order out of riots and confusion, played the parts of cowards, but Jerry Rusk, who never faltered in any emergency, overthrew the plans of the rioters and quickly re-established law and order.

It is for doing all of these things that Governor Rusk is widely popular. His uprightness in office, and his ability and courage to act promptly and wisely in the severest emergencies, show his extraordinary fitness for the high public trust which he holds. And because he has been a faithful servant and never lacking in a single thing, the people will honor him with a majority such as no other candidate for governor over before received.

The people of Wisconsin are not slow to recognize worth and ability in a public officer, and in the case of Governor Rusk they propose to show to all the world that they stand by their governor and by their courts, their police and their militia against those who organize mobs for the destruction of property and the loss of life.

Republicans will vote for Governor Rusk because he has been an exceptionally able official and well deserves the honor of a third term.

Democrats will vote for him because as the chief conservator of the law he rushed into the the very presence of the mob that was organized for the overthrow of law and order and crushed the revolt. They like a man of that kind of pluck and courage, and will give him their votes.

The laboring men should give him their support because he challenges their confidence and best wishes. Only a few years ago, when there was a disturbance up north on the Superior railway caused by the working-men not receiving their pay and by being driven to almost despair by want the officials telegraphed the governor for the militia. But what did the governor do? Did he send the soldiers? No. He telegraphed that famous message, "The men need bread and not bayonets." And bread was given them, justice done and peace restored. That is the kind of friend the workingmen have in Governor Jerry Rusk—a man with a heart as big as his frame, a man who has deep and abiding sympathy with the laboring classes.

The temperance people should vote for him because he represents the steadfast temperance element in the state. A more thoroughly temperate man can not be found in Wisconsin. He touches not, tastes not, handles not, anything that intoxicates; and besides that the party which he will lead to a magnificent victory is pledged to practical temperance reform.

THE PROBABLE WORK OF SOME AMBITIOUS PENCIL-PUSHER.

An Alleged Treaty Between the United States and Canada That Nobody Will Acknowledge—Free Trade and Free Fishing the Features of the Apocryphal Document—Comments on It.

OTTAWA, Canada, Sept. 25.—A dispatch from New York announces that a morning paper there prints what purports to be a synopsis of a reciprocal trade treaty between Canada and the United States, and now being considered by the colonial authorities and at Washington. The alleged treaty provides for practical free trade between the United States and Canada, and gives the Americans all the rights Canadians have in Canadian fishing waters, the same concessions being made by the United States in American waters north of the 36th parallel. The publication is denounced as a fraud by the following members of the Canadian government: Bowell, minister of customs; Carling, minister of agriculture; Costigan, minister of inland revenue, and Foster, minister of marine and fisheries. They say that on the face of it the fraud is apparent, it having been got up here by some needy correspondent. "Why," said Minister of Fisheries Foster, "the Dominion government would never ratify a treaty unless there was some clause embodied in it defining the rights of Canadian sealers to kill seal in Alaskan waters." Minister Foster says that, as regards the negotiations, they stand as they have stood for some time past, and that no draft has ever been submitted to the Dominion government.

Will Kill Our Fishing Business.

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—Hon. Charles Levi Woodbury said Friday that the alleged treaty seemed to be a rehash of the 1854 treaty, with an additional clause taken from the treaty of Washington. He doubted its genuineness, but, if genuine, it would never be ratified by the senate. "It is a delusion to expect the senate to ratify the free fish clause," he said. "If such clauses became law they would destroy the fishing interests of the United States and throw the whole industry into the hands of the British. It appears that there are other articles on the free list besides those enumerated in 1854, and it looks as if Canada was very desirous of becoming a manufacturing country and engaging in tanning, shoe-making, the clothing business, and lumber and woodenware trade for the United States."

Everybody Condemns It.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Sept. 25.—Everybody in this old fishing town is discussing the published text of the proposed treaty, and it may be safely said that everybody is heartily condemning it. All the fishermen say it will ruin the American fishing industry, and all express hope that it will never be ratified by the senate. Ex-Collector Babson says the granting of privileges to cure fish on the shores sounds well, but is useless, as there is nothing done in curing fish now and has not been for many years, the fish being brought home on ice, or salted in bulk.

Just What Canada Wants.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 25.—Friday morning Sir Charles Tupper was interviewed as to the desirability of a treaty between England and the United States involving reciprocal trade between the two countries and the settlement of the fishery trouble. He held that such a treaty was in every way desirable—just what Canada wanted. Being asked whether he was aware that such a treaty was under consideration, he became very reticent. He emphatically said that he believed such a treaty would be decidedly to the interest of both countries.

Washington Can Not Confirm It.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 25.—The reported treaty between Great Britain and the United States, a synopsis of which has been telegraphed from Ottawa, has never been submitted to the American authorities, and nothing is known of it at the state department.

Sent Him Full Authority.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 25.—In reply to a telegram from Dr. Salmon, of the animal industry bureau, announcing the presence of unquestionable pleuro-pneumonia at the Chicago distilleries and stating that he had offered on the part of the United States to pay the expense of slaughtering the cattle (except compensation of owners), disinfecting, and inspection of suspected districts, Commissioner of Agriculture Colman sent the following Friday: "Your action approved. You are also authorized to take any steps deemed necessary and expedient to still further confirm your diagnosis and satisfy the most exacting that the disease is typical pleuro-pneumonia."

CHARLSTON PEOPLE WAITING IN FEAR AND TREMBLING

The Predicted Earthquake on the 29th —Fright That Reason Has no Effect Upon—An Awful Disaster in Germany —Forty-Five Miners Killed and Sixteen Injured—Other Misfortunes.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 25.—Wiggins' prediction of an earthquake on the 29th inst., has entirely demoralized the people here, and it is useless to argue that there is no foundation for the prophecy. The News and Courier Thursday tried to show the Wiggins prophecy to be without foundation, but there is no use to attempt to argue with men, women, and children who have been living on the brink of a crater for nearly a month. Until Sept. 29 is passed there will be no rest in this afflicted city. Many men had sent their families to Savannah, New Orleans, Macon, and other cities embraced in Wiggins' predictions, in the hope of being able to attend to their business. Their state of mind can not be described.

The situation, barring the Wiggins prophecy and its results, is rather cheerful. There were two slight shocks at Summerville Thursday night, and one in the city Friday morning, although the one in the city was felt by few people. The one bright spot in the darkness is the continued good weather, which cheers every one. The equinox having passed, there is every reason to warrant the hope that there will be no September cyclone, and this encourages the people.

Letters having been received from all parts of the country asking whether the period of great distress in Charleston has not passed, the statement is authorized that the relief committee, through the generosity of their fellow countrymen, feel themselves in a position to furnish subsistence and temporary shelter to all who need it. But at the same time the committee estimate that the relief funds at command or in prospect fall short of the money needed to put in habitable condition the homes of persons who are unable to repair their buildings without public aid. Government inspectors have inspected 600 buildings out of 7,000 in the city, and estimate the damage to those inspected at $2,000,000.

WHOLESALE DEATH IN THE PIT.

Forty-Five Men Killed by an Explosion of Fire-Damp.

ESSEN, Sept. 25.—By the explosion of fire-damp in a coal pit near Schalke, Friday, forty-five persons were killed and sixteen seriously injured.

Had a Premonition of Death.

EAST LYONS, Mich., Sept. 25.—Late Thursday at 3 a. m. Edward Millman was killed near here by the wreck of the locomotive on which he was fireman, some one having turned a rail from the track. At about the same moment his mother, in Fort Gratiot, Mich., says she distinctly heard her son's footsteps on the sidewalk outside their house; and heard him come to the front door and shake the wire door. When she got up and went down to let him in she found no one there. She became very excited, and went to a neighbor's and told what had happened, saying that she felt her son was dead. Four hours after the sad news of the accident was told to her.

Storm at Wabash, Ind.

WABASH, Ind., Sept. 25.—A tremendous rain-storm passed to the north of this city Thursday, doing great damage to growing wheat and washing out culverts and bridges in many places. A big break was discovered on the Detroit division of the Wabash road near Chili, 100 feet of an embankment having been carried away. All passenger trains were sent through this city, and freight traffic was suspended till the damage was repaired. The rain was the heaviest that has fallen in years.

Gave His Life for Others.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 25.—Nicholas Doyle, aged 55, a gate tender on the Pennsylvania railroad in this city for over thirty years, who has saved more than a dozen lives, was struck Friday morning by a train while saving a fellow being and mangled to death. He was struck before while trying to save people. It is probable that his brother railroad men will erect a handsome monument telling of his heroic bravery and love of his fellow men.

Inundation of Corpus Christi.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Sept. 25.—The wind Thursday was sixty miles per hour and the rapidly rising tide flooded the low-lying districts of this place. The wharf was under water and the quarantine boat and small craft was driven some distance upon the land and stranded. Friday was pleasant. There was no serious damage at Victoria.

Two Little Children Killed.

MAUCH CHUNK, Pa., Sept. 25.—Two little children were struck by a passenger train Thursday evening about ten miles from here. The oldest, aged 3 years, died shortly after the accident, and the youngest, only 16 months old, expired Friday morning. They were walking on the track close to a sharp curve of the road.

Will Ask Spain What She Means.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 25.—Consul General Williams, at Havana, in reply to an inquiry from the secretary of state, confirms the report that the Madrid government has sustained the Cuban authorities in their refusal to carry out the treaty agreement making mutual concessions to American and Spanish vessels trading between Cuba and this country. This will lead to a correspondence between this government and the Spanish authorities to ascertain what the latter means, and ultimately to good faith on the part of Spain or a revocation of the arrangement by the United States.

Bartholomew Heard from.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 25—Friends of G. M. Bartholomew have received several letters from him dated Montreal, but so far as learned they contain nothing of importance to the public. The Union Manufacturing company's affairs are not yet fully analyzed. It is said, however, that the debts are $300,000. If so, it can meet its notes by sacrificing all its capital stock. Bartholomew had only $500 with him when he left town, Brooks qualified in $250,000 as co-receiver Friday.

The Current Event.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 25.—C. J. Weathersley, president; W. H. McCurdy, secretary, and E. E. Penn, cashier, of the Kaw Life Insurance association, with headquarters in Kansas City, Kan., are missing. The affairs of the company are in a mixed condition. The association was organized on the mutual plan, being incorporated four years ago and being driven out of Missouri shortly after by the insurance commissioner.

Jem Smith Better Stay at Home.

Raise in the Price of Coal.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 25.—The executive committee of the Lehigh & Schuylkill coal exchange Friday agreed to advance the line and city and harbor prices 15 cents on all sizes except lump, steamboat and pea on Oct. 1. The new rates for hard and free burning white ash coal at Shuylkill Haven will be $2.60 for lump and steamboat; $2.75 for broken and egg; $3.00 for stove and small stove; $2.75 for chestnut and $1.25 for pea. These prices are 15 cents per ton higher than those ruling in October last year, but are about the same as the prices in October 1884, and 15 cents lower than those in October 1883.

Refused to Grant Unions a Monopoly.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 25.—The board of public affairs has taken a very decisive step in the question of employing only organized labor on public work. They unanimously pronounced against it, and even went so far as to rescind the resolutions made in favor of labor unions. They claimed that the board had no right to discriminate between skilled workmen, and would not do so. The matter was brought about by the request of a delegation from the Painters' union that none but union painters be employed by the board.

Preparing for "Gen." Booth.

TORONTO, Ont., 25.—Extensive preparations are being made by Salvation Army people for the reception of "Gen." Booth, who will arrive in this city Tuesday next. The "general" will be accompanied by Col. Dowdle, commander of the northern divisions of England. He will be received at the depot by about 500 officers from Quebec and Ontario, and will be escorted by a torchlight procession, headed by a brass band, to the temple, where a welcome meeting will be held.

Wouldn't Welcome Londonderry.

CORK, Sept. 25.—At a meeting of the Cork corporation Friday a motion to present an address of welcome to the marquis of Londonderry, lord lieutenant of Ireland, was rejected by a majority of 17. The Nationalists, whose votes defeated the motion, complained that the first official act of the new lord lieutenant was the arrest of Father Fahy.

New Bank for Minnesota.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 25.—The comptroller of the currency has authorized the Mankato National bank, of Mankato, Minn., to begin business with a capital of $100,000.

THE AUTHOR OF "PROGRESS AND POVERTY" FEELS CONFIDENT

That He Will Be the Next Mayor of New York—A Sketch of an Interesting Career—Candid Confession of Abram S. Hewitt—Twelve Years in Congress Convinces Him That He Is a Failure.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The Tribune has a report of an interview with Hon. A. S. Hewitt, in which it is stated that upon being asked whether he would again be a candidate for congress this fall he said:

I can not say yet whether I shall be a candidate or not. There may be conditions under which I might accept a renomination. I do not really see that there is any reason why I should go back, however. I have been there twelve years, endeavoring to do what I believed was for the general good, but when I contemplate the result of my work I am forced to admit that I have been a failure. It really seems that I have no influence whatever.

Referring to the position of the Democratic party upon the tariff question, he said:

Now, it is all wrong to continually advertise the Democratic party as absolutely in favor of free trade. It is not a free trade party, and in its platform it declared distinctly that, while it favored the reduction of taxation, it did not propose to interfere with any business which had been created by protective duties and which had not yet outgrown their necessity, but there are many branches of business in which protection is no longer needed and to which the imposition of duties upon raw material is a positive injury.

Mr. Hewitt added that he had introduced a bill in congress last session which it was agreed by all parties was a good measure—dealing as it did entirely with customs administration. But Morrison and Randall each insisted upon attaching it to their bills changing the tariff and he (Hewitt) did not have sufficient influence to get it considered on its merits. He continued:

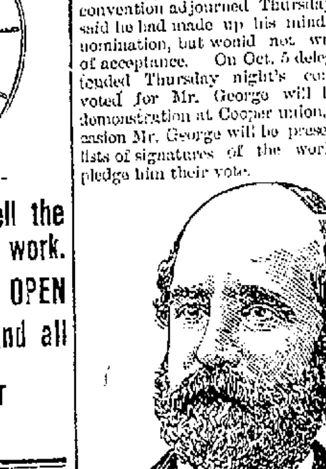
It is in consequence of this failure, chiefly that I am compelled to recognize the fact that my day has passed and that the commercial interests of New York ought to have a representative of more force and greater ability to achieve results.

CONFIDENT OF VICTORY.

Henry George Believes His Election as Mayor a Sure Thing.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Henry George claims to have assurances of 65,000 votes for the mayoralty. He says: "I am confident of victory. If there are five candidates in the field—Tammany, county Democratic, Republican, Prohibition, and the Labor candidate—I am sure to be elected. With that number in the race 65,000 votes will elect me."

Mr. George was officially notified of his nomination for Mayor Friday by a committee appointed for that purpose, after the convention adjourned Thursday night. He said he had made up his mind to accept the nomination, but would not write any letter of acceptance. On Oct. 5 delegates who attended Thursday night's convention and voted for Mr. George will hold a public demonstration at Cooper union. On that occasion Mr. George will be presented with the lists of signatures of the workingmen who pledge him their vote.



HENRY GEORGE.

Henry George was born on September 2, 1839, in Philadelphia. He was educated in the Philadelphia public schools until he was 13 years of age. He began life as an office boy, and spent two years in a commercial house. Philadelphia was then a big city, but not big enough for Henry George. He went to sea and visited every part of the globe, including Australia. He returned to Philadelphia after two years of life on the ocean and entered a printing office. He spent but a short time at the printing business, when he again went to sea. When his vessel reached California he concluded that it was the place for him, but he traveled as far as British Columbia with a party of mining prospecters. Returning to San Francisco, he became a type-setter, and he worked at his trade until 1867, when he became a reporter for one of the San Francisco papers. His ability as a writer was soon recognized and in five months he became managing editor of the paper. While in this position he went to New York and spent some time there. The grandeur and opulence, the squalor and misery which Mr. George had witnessed in New York led him to study the social question, and some time after he returned to San Francisco he wrote a pamphlet on "Our Land and Our Land Policy." In 1871 Mr. George became editor and a stockholder in a San Francisco paper, but he fought the Pacific railroad corporation so vigorously that he was removed. With two friends, both printers, he started The San Francisco Post, which is now a prosperous newspaper. It was a penny paper, and there was no coin there smaller than a nickel. Mr. George solved this difficulty by purchasing several barrelfuls of them from eastern concerns. When the newsboys bought their paper at The Daily Post office they got pennies for change and in that way the pennies soon got into circulation. Originally a Republican, Mr. George joined the Democratic party in 1872, and represented California in the national Democratic convention which met in Baltimore. He stumped California for Tilden in 1876. He was connected with his paper until 1875, when he resigned the editorship because he did not agree with the policy of the stockholders. Two years later he began to write "Progress and Poverty," the book which has given him a world-wide reputation; and finished it in August, 1879. Until the book appeared Mr. George was unknown.

Since 1881, when Mr. George removed to New York, he has visited England, Ireland and Scotland—in 1882, 1883 and 1884 respectively. He was received by the leading men of these countries, and he spoke on the land question all over the Kingdom. While in Ireland as a newspaper correspondent, in 1881, he was arrested as a "suspect" at Athenry and Loughrea. County Galway, but was imprisoned only a few hours in each instance. Mr. George devotes all of his time to literary work. He has written "The Irish Land Question," 1881; "Social Problems," 1883; "Free Trade and Protection," 1886. Mr. George has a wife, three daughters and two sons. He is of short stature and sturdy build.

Mr. Brady's Book.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—In regard to Mr. Brady's long-talked-of book, Robert G. Ingersoll said Thursday: "I have no reason to believe that Mr. Brady knows anything that would be worth publishing. The facts and the history of the political and personal relations of Mr. Brady were pretty well brought out at the trial. No, I do not expect to hear any more about that book. It will never get as far as the preface, in my opinion."

Nominated Gen. Lee's Cousin.

CULPEPER, Va., Sept. 25.—The Democrats of this, the Eighth district, Thursday nominated W. H. F. Lee for congress. Mr. Lee is a cousin of the late Gen. R. E. Lee.

A YOUNG BRIDE'S SUICIDE.

Driven to Death by the Fear of Insanity —A Pitiful Story.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 25.—Mrs. C. A. Rudolph, residing on Linden avenue, shot herself four times in the breast Thursday night. She died Friday. She was 23 years old, and had been married only six weeks.

Mrs. Rudolph's suicide is a singularly sad one. She was wedded to the man she had loved all through her girlhood, possessed a beautiful home, and was surrounded by everything that money could buy. She was haunted by a dread of becoming insane. Before she fired the pistol shots Thursday she wrote two letters, one in German to her parents and the other in English to her husband. The letter to the husband is as follows:

I am at the point of insanity. My brain is in a constant whirl, and rather than probably cause you years of trouble on earth, I propose to suffer in the other world. I have tried to become what I was, but I see no hopes. Good-bye, my love; forget that I have been. Farewell, my lovely home. Your loving wife, JENNIE.

She then laid down upon the bed, after changing her white dress for one of dark color, and, baring her breast, fired four balls into it, all going within a radius of two inches from the left nipple. Her remains lay Friday evening in the parlor where she was married last month, with her white satin wedding robe for a shroud.

A Talented Thief Arrested.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 25.—Mollie Hoy, of New York, one of the widest known female shoplifters in the United States, was arrested in this city Friday while in the act of escaping from E. M. McGillin's dry goods store with an India shawl, valued at $450, concealed in her shoplifting bag. Mollie has been in the city since Tuesday, having come here from Toledo. While she was standing in the corridor with several policemen she skillfully abstracted a large black muslin bag from her skirts and tossed it out the window without being observed. The woman is one of the smartest in America, and she has a reputation that is equaled only by that of her husband, Jim Hoy. About fifteen or eighteen years ago this same Mollie Hoy used to operate here in Cleveland, but she was never apprehended. She confines herself to silk and shawl lifting, and can tell the value of the goods as easily as an expert. She has done big lifting in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, and all of the big cities, and was a member of the famous Molly Matches gang. Years ago she was exceedingly pretty, and her face now is calculated to deceive any but professional spotters and detectives.

Organizing a Medical Congress.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 25.—Representatives of the medical and surgical societies of the United States met at the Army Medical museum Friday and effected a temporary organization by the election of Dr. Busey, of this city, chairman, and Dr. J. Ewing Means secretary. The work was all preliminary, as the subject in hand was to consider the advisability of arranging for regular meetings in Washington of the various medical and surgical societies. Dr. Pepper, of Philadelphia, submitted a proposition that it was desirable to form a congress of the societies represented. It was decided to form such a congress, and it was agreed to constitute an executive committee of one representative from each society of the Union favoring the project, and that this executive committee should decide the time for meetings in Washington.

The Day at the White House.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 25.—President Cleveland settled down to old-time business habits Friday. He was up early, breakfasted early and was early at his desk looking over his mail. He began to receive callers at the usual hour, 11 a. m. Among his callers were Senators Voorhees and McPherson, Gens. Sheridan and Drum, Hon. Basil T. Wooda, an ex-member of the British parliament, and a number of bureau officials. At 1:30 the president came down to the east room and held a public reception. There were about 125 visitors present, and the president with good grace soon passed through the customary hand-shaking ordeal.

Charged with Conspiracy to Defraud.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 25.—Dewey, Rogers & Co., of Cleveland, Ohio, have filed a sensational suit against H. A. Woodsworth and S. A. Koontz, prominent citizens of St. Joseph county, charging them with purchasing goods from different firms to the amount of $15,000 in pursuance of a conspiracy to defraud their creditors. Koontz is Woodsworth's father-in-law, and the suit is brought to set aside an assignment of the goods to Koontz, which, it is charged, was made in pursuance of the conspiracy to defraud.

A Tumble for the Champions.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—The Chicago and Detroit ball clubs went out of the league for fun Friday and both got "licked," the Alleghenys of Pittsburg doing the business for Chicago—10 to 3—and the Stars of Syracuse, N. Y., beating the Detroits—5 to 4. Other league games: at Boston—New York 8, Boston 10—eight innings, darkness; at Philadelphia—Washington 2, Philadelphia 3.

Labor Troubles Anticipated.

MASSILLON, Ohio, Sept. 25.—One hundred and fifty men employed on trenches for the Massillon Water company struck Friday morning for an advance from $1.25 to $1.50 per day. The company refuse to accede and telegraphed to Pittsburg for 200 men. Trouble is anticipated if other men take their places.

Hung for Double Murder.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Sept. 25.—Frank Humphries was hanged here Friday for the murder of his sister-in-law and a niece. The crime was one of the most atrocious in the criminal annals of this state. At his trial Humphries claimed that he was suffering from temporary aberration of mind when he committed the murders, but this plea availed him not, and he was speedily convicted.

Racing at Gravesend.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The following horses were the winners at Gravesend Friday: Mamie Hunt, ¾ mile, 1:16; Frank Ward, 1⅛ miles, 1:55¼; Blue Wing, 1¼ miles, 2:10; Gleaner, 1 mile, 1:42¾; Harefoot, 1 1-16 miles, 1:50½; Broughton, 1⅛ miles, 1:55¾.

Lowell at Home Again.

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—James Russell Lowell arrived from England Friday.

John S. Dean, formerly chief clerk of the Wisconsin assembly, died Friday morning at Madison, aged 60 years.

Bishop Shanahan, of Harrisburg, Pa., was Friday attacked by congestion of the brain, and died in a few hours.

Three German soldiers were killed and twenty wounded in a collision of trains Friday near the depot in Berlin.

In the Bay of St. John, Friday morning, the schooner Mary Ann was cut in two by the schooner Summerset. Four persons were drowned.

Spain has demanded the expulsion of Ruiz Zorilla from French Territory. The French cabinet resolved to submit the matter to President Grevy.

Two members and two clerks of the late board of public works of Cincinnati have been arrested for the embezzlement of sums ranging from $10,000 to $15,000.

A loss of $150,000 was sustained at Toronto by a fire which originated in the wholesale liquor house of Davidson & Hay and extended to the adjoining buildings.

A. G. Strong, a Knight Templar residing on a farm near Naperville, Ills., was Friday killed by a Missouri Pacific engine, while attempting to board an accommodation train at Cheltenham.

The orange crop of Louisiana is said to be a complete failure, on account of last winter's freeze. Nine years of propitious weather will be required to fully restore the bearing capacity of the trees.

On a farm near Cuba, Mo., unknown parties murdered Malcolm Logan and his family of five persons. As Logan had lately received $1,300 by the sale of land, the cause of the tragedy is plain. P. F. Wallace has been arrested in St. Louis for the crime.

The Northern Sioux have decided to establish mail and transportation routes throughout the frontier region on the co-operative principle, the work to be done by the young men of the nation. As all the labor will be performed on foot, young warriors are now in training for their part in the enterprise. Each runner is to make seventy-five miles per week.

Prosecuting Bogus Butter Sellers.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 25.—The state dairy and food commissioner Friday morning swore out warrants for the arrest of A. J. Miller, of Court and Walnut; R. C. Pelling, 303 Central avenue; Henry Turner, of 53 West Court street, and H. H. Johanning, of 53 West Sixth street, grocers and butter merchants, on charges of exposing and selling an article purporting to be butter, which was not butter but merely an imitation of butter, without properly labelling the article. There are twenty or thirty other grocers on the list, but they will not be arrested until these four have been disposed of.

The Captain Must Go to Halifax.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept 25.—Chief Justice McDonald delivered judgment Friday on counsel Meagher's motion for a commission to have the captain and crew of the David J. Adams examined in the United States. The judge granted the application for a commission to examine the crew, but made it imperative that the captain give his testimony before the admiralty court here.

They Will Bet on Horse Races.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The jury in the pool-selling case of the Coney Island Jockey club, after being confined for twenty-four hours, were unable to agree upon a verdict, and were discharged at 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. It is the general opinion that the law against betting on the race-track can not be enforced.

Want to Ship Their Beer to Iowa.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Sept. 25.—A Milwaukee firm has applied for a mandamus to compel the Rock Island railroad to carry "New Era" beer as freight. The company claims that the Iowa liquor law restrains them from so doing. The beer men offer evidence that the fluid is non-intoxicating.

Gen. Logan Under the Weather.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 25.—Gen. John A. Logan, who has been in attendance here at the Knights Templar conclave, has been confined to his room by congestion of one of his lungs since the day of his arrival, but is now recovering.

Serious Danger

Threatens every man, woman or child living in a region of country where fever and ague is prevalent, since the germs of malarial disease are inhaled from the air and are swallowed from the water of such a region. Medicinal safeguard is absolutely necessary to nullify this danger. As a means of fortifying and acclimating the system so as to be able to resist the malarial poison, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is incomparably the best and the most popular. Irregularities of the stomach, liver and bowels encourage malaria; but these are speedily rectified by the Bitters. The functions of digestion and secretion are assisted by its use, and a vigorous as well as regular condition of the system promoted by it. Constitution and physique are thus defended against the inroads of malaria by this matchless preventive, which is also a certain and thorough remedy in the worst cases of intermittent and remittent fevers.

OF INTEREST TO ODD FELLOWS.

Permanent Location of the Sovereign Grand Lodge at Columbus, O.

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—At Thursday's session of the Sovereign Grand lodge, the special committee having charge of the matter reported that St. Louis, Chicago, Indianapolis, Columbus (Ohio), Washington and Philadelphia had solicited the honor of being the permanent location of the Sovereign Grand lodge. The report was accepted, and it was voted to remove the permanent location from Baltimore. On Friday the question was settled in six ballots in favor of Columbus, Ohio, by a final vote of 96, against 73 for Chicago.

The committee on the state of the order reported it inexpedient to establish a home for orphans of Odd Fellows under the care of the Sovereign Grand lodge, and the report was adopted. The judiciary committee reported approval of the grand sire's decisions that lodges under the immediate jurisdiction must meet weekly. The petition of T. B. Robinson, of Templar lodge 17, of California, on a long standing question of benefits was referred to the Grand lodge of California.

The report of the special committee on the death of Past Grand Sire Glenn was adopted. The Grand lodge then went into secret session, after which it adjourned.

The Sovereign Grand lodge also adopted the ritual for Rebekah degree lodges. In the evening the constitution of the Grand lodge of Denmark was approved, and it was decided not to change the present uniform of patriarchs militant.

RUSSIA'S ULTIMATUM.

Bruin Demands a Good Deal of Bulgaria —Anti-Russian Feeling.

SOFIA, Sept. 25.—It is stated that the Russian ultimatum to Bulgaria, of which Gen. Kaulbars is the bearer, demands the immediate raising of the present state of siege existing here, the liberation of all political prisoners held for complicity in the dethronement of Prince Alexander, and the indefinite postponement of the elections for members of the national assembly. There are no signs, however, of flinching on the part of the regency; on the contrary, the anti-Russian feeling, which throughout Bulgaria is increasing daily, encourages the government to adhere to the position it originally assumed.

Russia Serves Notice on Bulgaria.

SOFIA, Sept. 25.—The Bulgarian government is informed that a hostile demonstration in the vicinity of the Russian agency against Gen. Kaulbars, the czar's special envoy, will furnish an excuse for Russian interference.

They Dote on Alexander.

FRANKFORT, Sept. 25.—Prince Alexander paid a visit to this city Friday, and his arrival was the signal for a popular ovation to the late ruler of Bulgaria.

THE CONCLAVE OF TEMPLARS.

Next Meeting To Be at the Capital, if the Hotel-Keepers Are Willing.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 25.—The grand encampment of Knights Templar spent the greater portion of Friday in the discussion of changes proposed in the ritual, and the present usage was considerably modified by a very close vote. What changes were made are, of course, withheld from the public. The grand officers elected Thursday were installed, and committees on jurisprudence and codification of laws appointed to serve for the next three years. The committee to designate the place for holding the next triennial conclave reported in favor of Philadelphia, but a substitute carried which settles upon Washington City for the conclave in 1889, and the grand encampment adjourned to meet on the second Tuesday in October in Washington City.

It was provided, however, that in case there are any indications of imposition on the part of hotels or others the grand master has authority to name another place three months prior to the time appointed for holding the conclave.

THE QUARTERLY REVIEW.

DR. JOHN HALL'S HINTS TO TEACHERS ON THE LESSONS.

Sunday, Sept. 26—Lessons—Golden Text: "I Have Glorified Thee On the Earth, I Have Finished the Work Which Thou Gavest Me To Do."

From the nature of the lessons of this quarter, a review cannot take the shape given to it in ordinary narrative, but it may be made full of interest throughout if the reviewer can only fix a plan in his own mind and lead into it the minds of the scholars.

The first great point to be impressed is that, all through, we have to do with Jesus Christ. Whatever passes under notice in this exercise concerns him. He is first and last in it.

The second step which the mind may take in moving onward is to a classification of the ways in which he has come under our notice. All through he is working or speaking. The line of distinction, of course, is not sharp, for he explains as he works; but it is sufficient for our ends.

1. In Lessons I, III, IV, he is opening blind eyes and raising the dead, while in V he is by his acts proclaiming his peace and kingdom, and in VII he is washing the disciples' feet. This rough division recalls him as presented in five of the quarter's lessons. What do they each mean? How do they affect us? How did they affect the people then?

2. When we come to classify the lessons in which we hear his voice, we have seven in number. Their order is the following:

In Lessons II he is the "good Shepherd," explaining his own work.

In Lesson VI he is predicting the extent of his kingdom.

In Lesson VIII he is warning the tempted.

In Lessons IX, X, XI, he is comforting the sorrowing, and this by (IX) the thought of their home; (X) their fruitfulness in him; (XI) their divine comforter in his stead; and

In Lesson XII he is praying for them.

What we see him do, what we hear him say—these are the two divisions of the quarter's studies.

Turning to these topics in turn, the reviewer will endeavor to recall the points made and the lessons he illustrated in deeds or in words. (The questions of The Scholar's Hand-Book are numerous and varied, and such as will readily occur to a mind familiarized with these great themes.)

To classes less familiar with doctrines, and less easy to draw out by questions, another order might be pursued. "Now, children," one might say, "we shall think of the striking things we looked at." They will recall (1) the blind man healed; (2) the sisters mourning Lazarus; (3) Christ raising him; (4) Christ riding on an ass into Jerusalem; (5) Greeks wishing to see him; (6) Christ washing the disciples' feet; (7) Judas going out to betray him. Here again are seven points—incidents—round which questions, answers and reflections may be gathered.

It is a coincidence that we had (aside from the blind man) seven men under our eyes. The pupils can be asked whom they remember, and in what connections. They are Lazarus, Thomas, Judas the traitor, Philip, Andrew, Peter and John. The places, too, may be suggestive of questions, e. g., the pool of Siloam, Bethany, Bethsaida, the temple and Jerusalem. These bring up for notice the sisters, the Pharisees, the Gentiles, the chief priests, and the Jews who came to comfort the sisters. And, finally, we have studied one who is not a creature, but divine, namely the Comforter. Questions may usefully bring out the other names by which the Holy Ghost is described, the work he is promised to do for the disciples, and the way in which we should look for and receive his teaching.

The difficulty will be, not to find material for questions, but to bring under notice the leading lines of thought in this group of lessons, than which there can be none more interesting or important.

12. Sept. 19.—Jesus interceding. John xvii, 1-26. Golden Text—He ever liveth to make intercession for them (Heb. vii, 25).

ABOUT JESUS.

Jesus and the blind man.
Jesus and the good Shepherd.
Jesus and the sick man.

Jesus and the dead man.
Jesus honored.
Jesus sought by the Gentiles.
Jesus teaching humility.
Jesus warning Judas and Peter.
Jesus comforting his disciples.
Jesus the true Vine.
Jesus promising the Holy Spirit.
Jesus praying.

QUESTIONS.

Lesson 1. What did Jesus do to the blind man? Some one tell the story. What did he put on his eyes? What did people say?

Lesson 2. How is Jesus a good Shepherd? Whom do sheep follow? Who follow Jesus?

Lesson 3. Who was the sick man? Who were his sisters? Where was Jesus? What did the sisters do?

Lesson 4. Who was the dead man? How long had he been dead? What did Jesus do?

Lesson 5. What did the women do to honor Jesus? What did the people do in Jerusalem to honor him?

Lesson 6. What are Gentiles? To what disciple did the Greeks go? To whom did Philip go?

Philip and Andrew societies are those which find people and bring them to Jesus. Do you belong to one in spirit, if not in form?

Lesson 7. How did Jesus teach humility? Who usually did such service? What did Peter say? What did Jesus answer?

Lesson 8.—What warning did Jesus give to Judas? What to Peter? Judas is called the traitor. A bad name, a bad man, a bad story.

Lesson 9.—How did Jesus comfort his disciples? What did he promise?

Lesson 10.—How is Jesus a vine? Who are the branches? What is done to the useless branches?

Lesson 11.—Whom did Jesus say He would send to His disciples after He went to heaven? To do what?

Lesson 12.—What kind of a prayer did Jesus offer? How did He begin? What was the first wonderful thing about this prayer? The next? The third?

Lesson 13.—Review. Golden Text—I have glorified Thee on the earth; I have finished the work which Thou gavest me to do (John xvii, 4.)

What work has God given us? Are we doing it?

If we believe in our hearts that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, we shall love, admire and reverence Him: we shall try every day to be like Him, that we may show that we are one with Him, and thus glorify God and our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, the Son of God.—The Sunday School World.

Sunday School Teaching.

When we take up the calling inconsiderately or thoughtlessly, we are in danger of treating this great work with too much indifference. This is the reason why so many continue for a brief time in the Sunday school and then leave it. I fear such superficial workers did not count the cost. "No man, having put his hand to the plow, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God." The present day requires teachers who will work with zeal, discretion, patience, firmness, prayerfulness and studiousness, having the Master's help very near. Thus Sunday school teachers will become mighty instruments in the hands of the Saviour; in all their efforts they will produce a powerful influence over their scholars. We require more teachers having such qualities. The Sunday school needs steady, persevering work from teachers who have a solemn consideration of the responsibility of the work, as those who have to give account. Our lessons and addresses and discipline in the Sunday school should mean that we are in earnest, as engaged in work of the highest importance. We must not think that anything will do for the Sunday school, whose chief aim is for the salvation of the young. When we consider the greatness of the Saviour's love in coming into the world to die the dreadful death of the cross to reconcile man to His Father, we may very soon see the importance and character of the work we co-operate in. The redemption of man was a stupendous and infinite work which the Saviour achieved. We, his servants, should labor with prayerful and solemn consideration. The Sunday school is a nursery for the training of the young immortals for an eternal destiny. The reward to the faithful will be glorious in a better world. Yes, an imperishable crown, which will never fade away, eternal in the heavens.

It behooves every Sunday school teacher, in consideration of the vastness of the work, to deeply consider what is necessary, when he takes the teacher's chair. Let me say that first of all, Jesus must dwell in our hearts, having the control of their workings and aspirations. Keeping close to the Master, and receiving his help, his Spirit, the wisdom he is able to give, we shall gain greater influence over our scholars, and in God's hands win them as trophies for the Redeemer, to shine forever and ever.—Thomas Heath, Plymouth, Eng.

Sunday Schools in the Adirondacks.

A very worthy member of the Society of Friends, who is familiarly called the Quaker missionary of the American Sunday School Union, writes to the primary class of a Congregational Sunday school in Brooklyn, of his work among the Adirondack mountains, where so many go for health:

"My dear little helpers: after organizing a Union Sunday school, I promised a pretty card to every scholar that would bring me a dollar for the library. One little girl said, 'Well, I know grandpa is awful tight, but I am going to try to love a dollar out of him some way.' "

To the Sunday school of Plymouth Congregational Church, Brooklyn, he writes of meeting a hermit who has lived alone among the mountains for thirty years, on corn meal and water, but has given 2,500 large Testaments to such as would agree to read in them every day.

To the Gospel Chapel Sunday school he writes: "As I drove up in front of a grog shop a man said, 'Mister, you need a revolver more'n a Bible up here; nary a Christian here. We don't go much on 'ligion; rather have a keg of beer and a dance.' This community was a by-word—'Nothing worse this side of Africa.' " But the missionary started three schools in that neighborhood and round about.

An End to Bone Scraping

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill. says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25 cents per box by F. Sherer & Co.

Hay Fever

Ely's Cream Balm was recommended to me by my druggist as a preventive to hay fever. Have been using it as directed and have found it a specific for that much dreaded and loathsome disease. For ten years or more I have been a great sufferer each year, from August 9th till frost, and have tried many alleged remedies for its cure, but Ely's Cream Balm is the only preventive I have ever found. Hay fever sufferers ought to know of its efficacy.—F. B. Ainsworth, of F. B. Ainsworth & Co., Publishers, Indianapolis, Ind.

Clothing Cutters' Strike Ended.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The clothing cutters' strike has come to an end. The trouble began because August Brothers, and L. N. Michaels & Co. gave employment to non-union men. A strike was ordered on these two shops, followed by the bosses ordering a general lock-out until the strike was declared off. This has now been done, and the master clothing cutters have taken back as many union men as they have employment for, at the same time refusing to discharge the non-union men whom they have already employed, so that the union men in many instances are working with the "scabs." There are still many union men going the rounds of the shops asking to be taken on.

A Great Feat on the Wheel.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 25.—The great race of S. G. Whittaker, of Chicago, against time, on a bicycle, occurred here Friday on a track fifty miles long. He started at 5 a. m., reached the twenty-five-mile post at 6:31, and the fifty-mile point at 7:55:48½—time, 2:55:46½—beating the record of Golden in England by 9 minutes and 13¼ seconds, and the American record of Webber by 11 minutes and 13¼ seconds. Whittaker completed the run of 100 miles at 11:43:59; time, 6:43:59—beating the fastest time ever before made on the globe by 1 hour 7 minutes and 1 second.

The Portland Bank Thief.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 25.—Bank Examiner Wiswell said Friday that he found the affairs of the First National bank in a very complicated condition. He would not state whether Gould had added forgery to his crime, but it is rumored that Gould has used other men's names without their knowledge. The other day the directors ran into something of a startling nature, but what it was they would not disclose. It is feared that the First National bank stands in a precarious position.

Mysterious Cattle Disease.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 25.—Last Monday a farmer named Christian, east of the city, purchased sixteen head of cattle at the stock yards, which had been shipped here from the burnt district of Wisconsin. The following day they began dying, and Thursday evening thirteen were reported dead, with the remainder sick. Veterinary surgeons differ about the cause of death, some attributing it to pleuro-pneumonia and others to a change of food.

Old and reliable Medicines are the best to depend upon. Acker's Blood Elixir has been prescribed for years for all impurities of the Blood. In every form of Scrofulous, Syphilitic or Mercurial diseases, it is invaluable. For Rheumatism, has no equal.

To the Cuticura Remedies I Owe My Health, My Happiness, and My Life.

A day never passes that I do not think and speak kindly of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Seven years ago, all of a dozen lumps formed on my neck, ranging in size from a cherry stone to an orange. The large ones were frightful to look at, and painful to bear; people turned aside when they saw me, in disgust, and I was ashamed to be on the street or in society. Physicians and their treatment, and all medicines, failed to do any good. In a moment of despair I tried the CUTICURA REMEDIES—CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally; the small lumps (as I call them) gradually disappeared, and the large ones broke, in about two weeks, discharging large quantities of matter, leaving two slight scars in my neck to-day to tell the story of my suffering. My weight then was one hundred and fifteen sickly pounds; my weight now is one hundred and sixty-one solid, healthy pounds, and my height is only five feet five inches. In my travels I praised the Cuticura Remedies, North, South, East and West. To Cuticura Remedies I owe my Health, my Happiness, and my Life. A prominent New York druggist asked me the other day, "Do you still use the Cuticura Remedies you look to be in perfect health?" My reply was, "I do, and I shall always. I have never known what sickness is since I commenced using the Cuticura Remedies." Sometimes I am laughed at by praising them to people not acquainted with their merits, but sooner or later they will come to their senses and believe the same as those who use them, as dozens have whom I have told. May the time come when there shall be a large CUTICURA Supply House in every city in the world, for the benefit of humanity, where the CUTICURA REMEDIES shall be sold ONLY, so that there will be rarely a need of ever entering a drug store.

Sneezing Catarrh

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid, watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headache—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of Sanford's Radical Cure for Catarrh will afford instantaneous Relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvelous curative power of Sanford's Radical Cure manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

Sanford's Radical Cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and one Improved Inhaler, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

TIRED OUT!

At this season nearly every one needs to use some sort of tonic. IRON enters into almost every physician's prescription for those who need building up.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS
Trade Mark — QUALITY P PURITY NOT QUANTITY — On Every Bottle
—THE BEST TONIC.

For Weakness, Lassitude, Lack of Energy, etc., it HAS NO EQUAL, and is the only iron medicine that is not injurious. It Enriches the Blood, Invigorates the System, Restores Appetite, Aids Digestion
It does not blacken or injure the teeth, cause headache or produce constipation—other Iron medicines do
DR. G. H. BINKLEY, a leading physician of Springfield, Ohio, says:
"Brown's Iron Bitters is a thoroughly good medicine. I use it in my practice, and find its action excels all other forms of iron. In weakness, or a low condition of the system, Brown's Iron Bitters is usually a positive necessity. It is all that is claimed for it."
DR. W. N. WATERS, 1219 Thirty-second Street, Georgetown, D. C., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is the Tonic of the age. Nothing better. It creates appetite, gives strength and improves digestion."

FOR RENT—Large first class house and barn with eight acres of land if desired H. H. Blanchard.

Briefiets.

—The Janesville delegation to the state fair has returned home.

—The five months old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Casey, of the fifth ward, died at two o'clock this morning. The funeral will probably be to-morrow.

—The executive council of the associated charities will meet at the room of the association in Jackman's block, Monday, Sept. 27th, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. A full attendance is desired.

—Mr. Swan has commenced building the derrick for drilling the artesian well, and will soon set the drill in motion with a steam engine. Mr. Swan says the location is a good one and thinks there is no doubt about the success of the well.

—The Rock county senatorial committee—17th District—appointed at the late senatorial convention, consists of Messrs. Cyrus Miner, Janesville; Daniel Johnson, Union; S. T. Merrill, Beloit; Guy Wheeler, LaPrairie, and R. W. Cheever, Clinton.

—R. N. Davenport, Senate Deputy of the National Union, will institute a subordinate council in Grand Army hall on Tuesday evening, Sept. 28. All persons whose names are on the list are requested to be present at 7:30, and invite their friends to come with them.

—Whitehall Times—A man who lately discontinued taking the Times, because he preferred a city paper, called yesterday and laid before us a little matter concerning his own affairs which he wished to have published in our columns. As it does not appear in these columns, probably our readers can find it in the columns of some city paper. Check is a commodity which God has lavishly bestowed upon the multitude.

—Rev. Frank L. Lee, of Whitewater will occupy the pulpit of the Congregational church, Sept. 26th, in exchange with Rev. H. A. Miner. He will speak in the evening on "Manners and Customs in the Holy Land." He will speak from personal observation, having spent several months in the Holy Land. His address will be full of interest and merit a full house.

—There is one thing that has caused more or less trouble to the patrons of the street railway. Passengers who wanted to go nearly to the end of the line would find on arriving at the railway depots that their car went no further. It will pay every one to remember that cars No. 1 and 2 go from one end of the line to the other at each trip; while car No. 3, the one having a green light, only runs from Bluff street to the railway crossing and is intended for the especial accommodation of those coming or going on the trains.

—The new residence of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Zienow, corner of High and Wall streets, having been put in readiness for occupancy, a large number of their intimate friends assembled at the new house last evening and indulged in merry making, giving the new structure a genuine "house warming." Music, games and general sociability were the order, and the evening was joyously spent, and the new residence was regularly and harmoniously dedicated, every one present being exceedingly glad of the opportunity of being there.

—The Commercial College will open the fall course of studies upon Monday September 20th, Prof. Silsbee presiding. In advance of opening already there are an unusual number of full course students now at work. The course of study is improved so as to interest young men from the day they begin, to graduation. The student enters like a clerk in a great business emporium and receives his promotions according to merit and advancement in business ability until he has acted in every capacity of business men. All branches in which he may be deficient are given him without additional charge; and at conclusion he receives a diploma, showing his true worth as a business man.

—The other day a first ward man rented a shot gun, bought some duck cartridges, put on his tall rubber boots and started out after snipe. He put in most of the afternoon at it. When he came back he had a full game bag and some stories about the shots he had made that would have put any one but a member of the Angle-worm club into an untimely grave. He spent a good part of the evening telling about what fun it was to shoot snipe and it wasn't until he was just ready to go home that they shocked him by showing that the birds must have been shot with cartridges two sizes larger than his gun would take if the stories were all true. The clerk had opened the wrong ammunition box, and that sportsman will either have to spend a young fortune for cigars or else claim that he talked the snipe to death.

—There are rumors on the street to the effect that the street car drivers have become dissatisfied and are talking of a strike. Superintendent Atwood looks over his list of fifty or more applicants for positions on the line and smiles blandly, not seeming to feel very much concerned as to whether the reports have any foundation or not. He met with one misfortune this morning that threatened grave consequences. When he went to the safe to get out the drivers change boxes he found it was not yet open. He took hold of the knob, twisted it, spoke several words of a cabalistic nature, twisted again, and before he saw what had happened the offending fixture had broken off in his hand. It looked for a while as though the drivers would have to get off their cars and step into some store along the line when they wanted change, but a locksmith was called and the safe door finally swung open.

—As Street commissioner Morgan was driving toward town last night, the buggy wheels went over a pile of dirt that some one had left on Jackson street near the Presbyterian church. Before Mr. Morgan had time to call a gang of men and have the obstruction removed his buggy was on its side and he had been thrown out into the street. His wife and child who were also in the buggy, remained inside of the top and so escaped severe injuries. The horse was soon stopped but not until he had cut himself severely and had dragged the buggy on its side for quite a distance. Mr. Morgan thinks that the damage done will amount to about twenty-five dollars. He is now looking for the persons who were responsible for the obstruction of the street as the city ordinances say that no person shall throw dirt, rubbish, or other refuse matter in the streets or alleys and that no person shall raise or lower the surface above or below the established grade without an order from the common council.

MECHANICAL MESSENGER BOYS

The System That has Just been Introduced in the Chicago Store—A Cash Railway.

Within the past few years the large stores in Chicago, New York and other cities have done away with cash boys by adopting the "cash railway." But the improvement was confined to metropolitan establishments. No one in the smaller cities ever thought of trying it and it has remained for Janesville to furnish the precedent. The Chicago store is now fully equipped and the system was put into operation this morning for the first time.

Instead of calling a cash boy to bring them change, the fair maidens who preside over the counters now put their price ticket with the money in a hollow wooden ball, place it on a miniature elevator, grasp a cord that plays upon a pulley overhead and as the elevator reaches the level of the upper set of rails a door drops and out towards the cashier's desk rolls the inanimate messenger. The desk is perched up in the air in a retired corner of the store, and from it branch out the lines of light rails on which the balls run. There are two lines to each counter, one sloping toward and one from the desk. The balls are of different sizes and the stations are so adjusted that when the proper one is reached on the way back a projecting arm is struck, a gate flies open and the ball drops down into a cage at the spot where it started. Change can thus be made in thirty seconds from any part of the store.

One of the most ingenious features of the system is the device used at the switches. As the different lines approach the cashiers' station, they merge into each other. When the balls are sent back filled with change there must be some way of sending each one off upon its own side track. In order to do this the switches are arranged with arms of such length as to throw over the movable rail whenever a ball of the size that is used on that branch comes along. The entire system is a wonderful exhibition of human ingenuity and many curious ones call at the store simply to see it in use.

HE WANTED A HORSE.

And, Whoever He was, He Managed to Get One.

This morning when Jonathan Leighton, living in the town of Magnolia, went out to the barn he found that instead of being obliged to take care of two horses he would now have only one. The other had disappeared during the night and all that remained to show where he had gone was a number of tracks on the soft ground outside. The thieves had evidently taken the animal out, led him to the road and then started toward the west going several rods. This was probably done as a blind, for the tracks a short distance away showed that the animal had there been turned around and headed toward Janesville. The hoof marks could be seen for two miles before they grew too indistinct to be followed.

It is not believed that the thieves passed through this city for there would have been too much risk of detection. They might, and probably did, strike off on one of the cross roads and make for Belvidere or some other point in northern Illinois.

The animal stolen was a dark bay Clyde, seven years old and weighing about eleven hundred pounds. A reward of fifty dollars has been offered for his return.

The officers heard of the matter this morning and at once began to take steps toward heading off the thieves. They were of the opinion that the man had gone south but, as there were no means of finding out, the sheriff at once had a number of postal cards with the description and reward printed upon them sent to all points where they might be of use.

A Janesville Lady in China.

The following letter will be read with interest by the friends of the young lady who will remember her as a daughter of Rev. L. N. Wheeler, formerly pastor of Court Street church. Miss Wheeler has been in China as a missionary teacher for some time and much of her childhood was spent there while her father was engaged in missionary work. The outbreak referred to in the letter was occasioned by the inhuman treatment of the Celestials in our country. A spirit of retaliation prompted the Chinamen to make an effort to drive out all English and especially American visitors from their borders:

CHUNG KING, July 2:

DEAR ONES AT HOME: Ere this reaches you, you may hear dreadful rumors; but please do not place too much confidence in them, for we are apparently safe, being housed in the pa-henen's ya-men. We have been treated very kindly by mine host and his family. Expect to start down the river in a few days. Our premises, as well as the English resident's, Mr. Copp's, the French Catholic cathedral, and many shops and private residences have been completely looted. Everything destroyed or stolen, down even to the stone pavements and board floors. The cathedral was burned to the ground. We are all together in the ya-men, with the exception of the English resident. We are not sure as to his fate, but feel pretty certain the tao tai has him in charge. Ida, Julia, Belle, Nancy and Aggie are with us. The little children are safe at the homes of the nurses. The whole city ably reinforced by many students and country people, has been in an uproar. I suppose the hard times have rendered desperate those who, under ordinary circumstances, are peaceable and respectable. Don't worry about me in the least, for we know that God is watching over us, and feel that all will end well. Your child and sister, FRANCES I. WHEELER.

Miss Wheeler has arrived at her home in Beaver Dam, this state.

Personal

—Miss Julia Moore, of Monroe, was visiting friends in this city yesterday.

—Mrs. John Slightam, of the second ward, has returned from a visit to friends in the west.

—Mrs. A. P. Burnham returned today from Madison and Oregon, where she has been for two weeks past.

—Rev. H. W. Spaulding, D. D., has accepted a call to become rector of Christ church. It is expected that he will be here soon.

OBITUARY.

A. C. STANNARD.

Again we are called upon to note the death of another of Rock county's old and respected citizens. A. C. Stannard died suddenly at his home in the village of Milton, on Friday morning at 11 o'clock, in the 65th year of his age. Mr. Stannard was ill less than a week, as he was in this city in attendance at the reunion of the 13 regiment last week,—his complaint being heart disease and liver complications.

Deceased was born in Almond, Alleghany county, New York, June 19, 1822, and came to Rock county, settling at Milton in 1857, and engaged in blacksmithing and the manufacture of wishing machines and the sole patent right. At the breaking out of the war he enlisted in K company, 13th Wisconsin Infantry, and was discharged on account of sickness at Lawrence, Kansas, in April 1862; in the following June he re-enlisted in G company, 1st United States sharpshooters. At the second Bull Run battle Mr. Stannard spied a sharpshooter hid in a tree, both fired at the same time, the rebel fell dead and Mr. Stannard had the toes on his left foot shot off, and was discharged in Dec., 1863; he was promoted to a Second Lieutenancy by Gov. Fairchild for bravery, in battle was deputy sheriff of Rock county for four years—1873 6. Deceased was an honored member of the Odd Fellows, his home being with Du Lac Lodge No. 66 at Milton, and was a frequent visitor to the lodges in this city. He was a consistant christian gentleman, being a member of the Seventh Day Baptist denomination.

He leaves a wife and five children—one of whom, Mr. F. P. Stannard, resides in this city—and a very large circle of friends to mourn his death.

The funeral will be held at Milton tomorrow (Sunday) at 10 a. m. and will probably be under the charge of the Odd Fellows.

MRS. EMMA BENUITZ.

Last night Mrs Emma Benuitz, wife of August Benuitz, of the first ward, closed her eyes in death after a lingering illness. She had been living with her daughter Mrs. John Rafeld on North Franklin street and had several other children living in or near this city. Death was caused by a cancer in the stomach.

The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock from the German Lutheran church.

The Milwaukee Industrial Exposition.

It is a source of pride to every resident of the Badger state to know that the Industrial Exposition at Milwaukee, is this year experiencing the most successful season of its existence. In point of numbers the attendance this fall has been greater than ever before known, that of one day last week having been larger than that of any other day since the institution was founded. From the opening, September 1, up to the present time there has been a daily attendance exceeding that of corresponding days in former seasons, and there is every reason to believe that it will continue to be so until the closing day, October 16.

This condition of affairs shows an interest in the Exposition, verifying the claim that the people of Wisconsin, as a rule, have the success of the institution at heart and stand ready to give it their united support where so creditable an exhibit as that of the present year shall be provided for them. The special features being offered this year are alone worth more than the nominal price asked for admission to the great building. The Japanese Village, Mexican Typeal Orchestra and other special features have proven great attractions, and are being followed by others equally as novel and pleasing. Of these might be named the celebrated Rock Band, which appears Sept. 30 to Oct. 2 inclusive. Then comes Emerson, the world famed cornet virtuso from Oct. 4 to 8 inclusive; he followed by Innes, the acknowledged king of trombone players in the world. It is but few institutions that would venture the great amount of money necessary to secure such special attractions as these. But the Milwaukee Exposition Association has done it, and is being rewarded by an unprecedented attendance. Railway lines of the state are doing their part towards a worthy cause by offering very low excursion rates to Milwaukee, so that every person can afford to visit the exposition. And there should be no delay in taking advantage of the opportunity offered, as the institution will positively close on Saturday, October 16.

The Pumping House.

This morning Water Commissioners Pease, Phelps and Denniston, with Engineer Edward Ruger, visited the proposed location of the pumping house on South River street, for the purpose of locating the building and designating the "spot" where the artesian well is to be put down.

After making a careful inspection of the ground the commissioners decided to locate the building on the east side of River street, seventy feet south of the north line of the lots purchased, the front of the building to be thirty feet east of the east line of River street. The lots at this point are upwards of 100 feet deep, this location of the pumping house will give ample room for coal sheds at the rear, and room in front for ornamental purposes.

The commissioner also located the artesian well, which will be in River street 18 feet, in front of the center of the pumping house.

The commissioners have not yet adopted a plan for a pumping house, but it is probable that they will adopt one similar to that in Fond du Lac, the plans of which are now in the hands of the secretary of the commissioners, and all seem to look upon it with considerable favor.

Secretary Phelps now has the report of the engineer, together with the map of the pipe lines, as amended by the commissioners, and he is preparing the same for submission to the common council, which he will do in a few days. When this preliminary work is settled, it will be comparatively smooth sailing until the works are completed, as there will be no further occasion to command halts for investigation or joint action.

A large washing has no terrors for the laundress who always uses Fairbank's Soap.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

Giving the Time and Places Where Divine Services Will Be Held on Sunday.

For I say unto you, that except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven. Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment. But I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment; and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council; but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire. Therefore if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath aught against thee; Leave there thy gift before the altar and go thy way; first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift. Agree with thine adversary quickly while thou art in the way with him; lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison. Verily I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou hast paid the uttermost farthing. Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery; But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. And if thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell. And if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

The Girls' Social Club.

On Monday, Sept. 27th, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Girls' Social Club rooms there will be read an account of the past year's work for and by the club; and an address by the president, Miss Conover, setting forth the objects to be accomplished and ways and means to be used in the future. All who are interested in the moral, social and intellectual welfare of our working girls are cordially and pressingly urged to be present. Surely the philanthropic and unflagging energy of the president, added to her unselfish love of the girls, supplemented by her wise and gentle tact, ought to call forth the interest needed to establish firmly all the unquestionable good the club designs to accomplish. It is hoped there will be a general attendance.

The Weather.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 65 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with south wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 86 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with southeast wind. For corresponding hours one year ago the register was 56 and 77 degrees above zero.

NOT HOG CHOLERA.

Investigation Proves that Many Hogs are Dying, not from Cholera, but from Eating Insects.—A Simple Remedy.

[From the Rockford Register.]

Certain interested persons who have been investigating the great mortality among hogs claim to have discovered that death in many instances is occasioned, not by hog cholera, as has been generally supposed. Examination of a number of defunct porkers has led to the conclusion that disease comes from eating insects during the drouth. The theory evolved is as follows: An unusual number of insects have come into existence this year owing to the dry weather. They have not been washed into the ground by rains, as in other seasons, because the rain has been minus. They lay on the hay grass, vegetable life, fallen apples, and in fact, everywhere. The hogs have eaten them in quantities, and the result is that a germ is formed in the throat of the porker. Unless attended to this grows and extends from the throat and into the stomach, and finally death ensues.

Mr. D. A. Sears, who has been interesting himself in the subject, states his conviction that while there may have been a good many cases of cholera, yet a large proportion of deaths result from this cause. He proposes the following simple remedy which he vouches for as efficacious: A tablespoonful of carbolic acid in a pailful of swill. Mr. Barber, who lives on the Shepherd Leach farm 3½ miles south of Rockford, had 20 hogs ill, young and old. He heard of this remedy, used it, and cured every ailing grunter. This disease can easily be distinguished from cholera; the symptoms are unlike it. The hog when first affected by the germ seems ailing but not very sick, and it generally takes about two weeks before fatal results follow. If this is so, farmers should all know of it and apply the remedy. It's cheap and easily administered, and certainly no harm would be done, but possibly might save the hog raisers of our section thousands of dollars.

Seventy Premiums.

The Galbraith Bros. horses will be home to-night from the state fair, at Milwaukee, where as usual they have been very successful, having won first in every class in which they competed. They were awarded no less than ten firsts and four seconds, which is far more than any other exhibitor of horses gained.

Last week they exhibited at three different fairs, namely, the Inter State fair, at Madison, the Northern Wisconsin at Oshkosh, and at the Rock county fair, gaining the lions share of the premiums at them all. At Madison they took nine first and three seconds, including two sweepstakes and grand gold medal for the best draft stallion of any age or breed. At Oshkosh they gained five first and three seconds, also the sweepstakes for best draft mare of any age or breed. At Rock County fair they took three first and three seconds. This number of prizes added to those gained the two weeks previous at Minnesota and Illinois state fairs brings the number up to 70, which is far ahead of the number gained by any other importer or breeder of this class of horses.

A New Society.

The Court Street Literary club, an organization composed mostly of the young people of Court Street M. E. church, gave their first entertainment last evening. After singing by the club the president, Dr. E. E. Loomis, read his address in which was a brief statement of the objects of the club. Following that came a piano solo by Mrs. A. O. Wilson, a select reading by Miss Jennie Hayes, a piano solo by Miss Pauline Smith and a reading, "The Legend Beautiful" by Miss Lou Bates. The first part of the programme closed with a vocal duet by the two daughters of the Rev. T. D. Peake. After a short intermission there was a piano duet by Misses Etta Sargent and May Hyde and a debate upon the question of whether or not Janesville would be a metropolis within the next twenty years. It was patriotically decided that she would be. The club starts with a good membership and promises to be quite successful.
